Home Learning

Dear Parent / Carers

I would like to begin by thanking you for your very kind messages and support during this global crisis. These are uncertain times and we do not have answers to lots of questions. What we do know is that schools will be closed for a little while. We have set up a home learning system to support your child at home. This is all new to us so there may be some teething problems and we will do our best to resolve them as quickly as possible.

We are very mindful that not everyone has the same access to technology at home but the internet is going to form the back bone behind how we communicate with you during any closure and provide you with access to learning materials. Having said that whilst we hope that the vast majority of parents will have online access not everyone will access it through the same devices e.g. phones, tablets and computers.

To try and make things as simple as possible we will be providing you with access to documents on our school website which you should be able to view on all devices and with text books which you can record the children's work in. Spelling, reading and maths work will be available and updated weekly on a Friday.

Edmodo is an online platform we would like to use to communicate with you and your child. You will receive a document explaining how to login. This online platform will allow your child to ask their teacher questions about learning tasks set etc. We have never used this before so we are still learning as we go.

All children have received a home learning pack, which contains a maths book (Squared lines) and a writing book (with lines) for work to be completed in. Home reading books are also included in this pack. Key stage 2 children will have at least two accelerated reading books. Once they have read their books, they can complete an AR test
