

Check Out What They're Doing In... NURSERY

Classroom Environment

Walking into the nursery classroom, you feel like you know all of the children. There are pictures and celebrations of their work everywhere. I loved the display which had a map of the world and pictures of the children, identifying their heritage. It showed that everyone's identity is embraced and celebrated. I adored the WOW moments that capture all of the children's achievements inside and outside the classroom. There is also a beautiful handmade tree in the corner of the room which goes up onto the ceiling!

Learning

There is creativity behind all of the work that the children complete in nursery. Their worksheets are colourful and engaging and the books, which evidence their learning, are vibrant and exciting. The pictures of the children completing their work tells the story of their learning journey and it is clear they love being in school!
